Most of the time, people make decisions without really thinking about them , they use their instinct. However, this kind of decisions making is no good in business. We can summarise the process of good decision- making in the acronym DIGEST. To make a good decision you should follow many steps. Firstly, define the problem. Say what you are really trying to do . Secondly, imagine a successful solution. Thirdly, generate alternative possibilities. There is very rarely only one solution to a problem. Fourthly, evaluate the possibilities. Fifthly, tell people your decision.

- 1- The word DIGEST is an .....

72 marks One text and do the tasks below. Edison made a device for New York Stock Exchange and sold it to them. He wanted $4000 for the device, the manager of the exchange asked him: "How much do you want?" Edison said: "Pay me what it's worth." The manager paid him $40000. Edison was now able to work full time as an inventor. He was well-known for working very long hours and making constant improvements to his invention. He once said: "Most people miss opportunity because it wears overalls and looks like work." Edison's favorite invention appeared in 1877. He wrapped a piece of tin foil around a cylinder. He connected a microphone and a speaker to the cylinder. He said: "Mary had a little lamb." into the receiver. The speaker played his words back. He called the device a phonograph.
